By such false reports the money of poor immigrants has been secured and they are left without any means to recover it back. The [illegible] that this matter may have the attention of Congress, so that the practice of [illegible] on immigrants may be broken up.

The Fire at Iquique.

The Panama Star and Herald of October 21, just received, has details of the great fire at Iquique news of which has already been received. The fire broke out in a German club house about 2 A. M October 7th. Before noon three fourths of Iquique had vanished in smoke, twenty four blocks of houses, stores, banks etc., were consumed. Merchant vessels in the harbor sent their crews on shore and all civilians, foreign residents, sailors, the police and authorities struggled to subdue the flames, but in vain. Iquique was built almost entirely of wood and sidewalks of the same material. The ground is impregnated with nitrate, and water is a luxury, and the salt water falling on the earth only served to kindle the fire hidden by saltpetre. The fire swept like a hurricane over the city. Houses fell like pasteboard palaces. The damage done is immense. Five million hard dollars will not cover it, and to Iquique no insurance could be [illegible] from the very nature of the ground and material employed for building purposes. The principal edifices burned are the Branch National Bank, town house, Iquique and commercial hotels, house occupied by the Pacific Steam Navigation Company, Market place, and club house of the city. Families are homeless. The President of Peru ordered the authorities to give 60,000 soles for their relief. In this different nationalities contributed liberally. Many merchants had taken advantage of the reduced tariff and dispatched large quantities of merchandise nearly all of which is now destroyed and now the merchants themselves are absolutely bankrupt, their liabilities owing to the disaster being in excess of their assets. Their warehouse in which large quantities of nitrate were stored close to the sea, were saved but large quantities of coal, a costly article there were burned.

EASTERN ELECTIONS.

New York Election.

NEW YORK, Nov 3.—In this city complete returns from 18 of 21 Assembly districts give the Democratic State ticket a majority of [illegible]. Total vote [illegible].

ALBANY, N. Y., Nov 3.—Up to noon to day returns indicate the election of 18 Republicans and 14 Democrats to the State Senate. The Democrats claim the election of 70 members of the Assembly. [illegible]

NEW YORK, Nov 3.—Brooklyn will give a majority of over 6,000 for the Democratic State ticket. It elects the whole Republican city ticket.

A special to the [illegible] says the Republicans estimate the State vote very close with a probable Democratic success.

The Albany Evening Journal concedes to Bigelow a Democrat by about 1,000 while the Commercial Advertiser still has hopes for Seward by 2,000 or 3,000. The Republicans certainly have a good working majority in both houses of the legislature.

Gov. Tilden Defeated in His Own County.

Columbia county, the home of Governor Tilden, gives a majority against his ticket.

Bigelow's Majority in New York

Full and accurate returns from all districts in this city show Bigelow's Democratic majority to be 28,088.

The State in Doubt.

Returns from various counties received to day and to night do not alter the apparent general result as stated last night and this morning, that the state ticket is in doubt, but probably Democratic by from 1,000 to 3,000 majority. It will doubtless require official returns to decide this question. The complexion of Brooklyn remains as last reported with the exception that Col. Cavanaugh, Independent Democrat is reported elected to the State Senate by a full vote of his district, with 360 majority over Jacobs, regular Democrat.

BUFFALO, Nov 3.—Full returns of this city show an average majority for the Republican State ticket of 2,800. Becker, Republican for mayor has 3,377 majority, with ten Republican and three Democratic aldermen.

The latest revised figures of yesterday's vote give Huck county treasurer [illegible]; Hessing 26,114; Keelos 8,114.

ALBANY, Nov 3.—The Evening Journal says: The result in the State ticket is close and still a matter of doubt. Our table shows a small apparent Democratic majority. The Senate stands 21 Republicans and 11 Democrats; the Assembly stands [illegible] Republicans to 50 Democrats. This may be varied a little further by returns but not materially.

The Times on the Result.

NEW YORK, Nov 3.—The Times this morning claiming a Republican majority in the State for the State ticket and a Republican majority in both branches of the legislature, adds: It is now beyond a doubt that both Republicans and Democrats will have to choose new presidential candidates for the people next year. Grant has been long out of the question as a presidential candidate and now Tilden may safely make up his mind to close his public life with his present term of office.

Pennsylvania Election Explained

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—A special from Philadelphia says the chairman of the Democratic State committee of Pennsylvania gives, as a cause of the defeat of his party, that men in New York City who professed to be Democrats, interfered in the election in Ohio and helped destroy brethren of their own political creed, and spread disaster among them. Had these men been true to the cause the Democrats would have carried the State by 100,000 majority.

Pennsylvania.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov 3.—Columbia county gives a Democratic majority of 215.

Hartranft's Majority.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov 3—11.30 P. M.—Returns received up to this hour from this State indicate that Hartranft for governor has a majority of about 17,000.

PITTSBURG, Nov 3.—Returns received up to midnight from nine tenths of Allegheny county, indicate a majority for Hartranft in the county of [illegible].

Returns from Pittsburg and Allegheny City complete, with the exception of one small district give Hartranft a majority of 9,656, a Republican gain of 503 over last year. Armstrong county will give Hartranft over 600 majority. In Forest county Hartranft's majority is 75 with two townships to hear from. In Fayette, Pershing, Democrat, has a majority of about 825, a Democratic gain of [illegible] over last year, excepting one Independent Republican to the legislature and register of deeds.

Dispatches to the Champion indicate the legislature will be more largely Republican than last year. Probably not more than a dozen Democrats will be elected. There will be a number of Independent Republicans in that body however.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov 3.—Monroe county gives 1,900 Democratic majority, a Democratic gain of 441.

Massachusetts Election.

BOSTON, Nov 3.—332 cities and towns, nine to hear from, give Rice 82,900; Gaston [illegible]; Baker [illegible]; Adams 1,774.

New Jersey Election

TRENTON, Nov 3.—The Republicans elect 5 out of 8 senators chosen this year in New Jersey. 13 senators hold over, 7 Republicans and 6 Democrats, giving the Republicans a majority of 3.

The New Jersey legislature stands: Senate 12 Republicans, 9 Democrats; House 37 Republicans, 23 Democrats.

Wisconsin Election.

MILWAUKEE, Nov 3.—Returns this morning make it certain that the Republicans have elected Ludington and the whole State ticket by majorities ranging from 2,000 to 5,000 and carried the legislature by [illegible] majority on joint ballot.

Latest from Wisconsin

MILWAUKEE, Nov 3.—Returns received at this hour (midnight) show that Ludington, Rep. is elected Governor by about 4,001. The balance of the Republican ticket is probably elected, though there is some doubt about Baetz for Treasurer.

Latest from the Maryland Election.

BALTIMORE, Nov 3.—Returns from counties to night is still incomplete but sufficient to decide the result in the State and the ticket and complexion of the legislature of 23 counties in the State. Mr Carroll has carried 10 by an aggregate majority of 3,700 and Mr Harris 10 by a majority aggregating 3,000, leaving three counties to be heard from which cannot affect the general result. For the Senate the Democrats have elected 9, the Republicans 3 with two districts to be heard from. For the House the Democrats elected 55, Republicans 23 with five districts to be heard from.

Kansas.

LEAVENWORTH, Nov. 2.—The vote of this county is not yet in, but the county officers will be divided between Democrats and Republicans. Of 7 representatives the Democrats elect 4, Republicans 2, Independents 1.

ATCHISON, Nov 3.—In Doniphan county the Republicans elect three representatives to the legislature and divide the county officers with the People's party.

In Nemaha county two Republicans are elected to the legislature and county officers are divided about equally with candidates on the People's ticket.

Returns from Kansas indicate that the Republicans have elected nearly two thirds of the legislature.

TOPEKA, Nov 3.—Montgomery county has gone Democratic.

Pawnee county elects an Independent Republican.

Saline, Miami, Clay and Allen send Republicans to the legislature.

Marshall county elects a full Republican ticket.

OREGON

The executive committee of the State Grange P. of H. was in session at Salem last Tuesday. All the members of the committee were present but one.

Mrs. Vickers of Fall Creek, Lane county, fell into that stream recently and was carried by the current into deep water, where she would have been drowned had not one of her sons, a small lad, come gallantly to her rescue.

Messrs Pacquet & Son, who were awarded the contract for building wing dams along the channel of the Upper Willamette completed the dam at Long Tom bar last week. The water is getting so high that it is probable work will be suspended for the present season.

The Statesman learns that Joseph Evans and John Burkhart of Linn county have been indicted by the grand jury of their county for the robbery of the sheriff's office in Albany last spring. Both men are old citizens and have borne good characters in the community. The affair creates a good deal of excitement.

The Mercury is informed that one of the citizens of Salem was arrested at Gervais by Deputy Sheriff Murphy, on a charge of horse stealing and committed to jail last Sunday, where he was detained till 9 o'clock Monday morning. It now appears that it was a case of mistaken identity and that the man arrested was not the one for whom the warrant was issued and he has commenced suit against the sheriff for $2,500 on a charge of false imprisonment.

THE THRILLING FIX OF A SUBMARINE DIVER

A few days since there died in a small house near the foot of Fourth street, San Francisco, a man named William Corrigan. He was a diver better known along the wharves as "On Deck," a title given him from a fashion he had of using this expression when "up in the wind," a condition unhappily too frequent for his own good. The Ledger, of that city, says of him:

"On Deck" has led an eventful life. A sailor in youth, a diver in manhood and a ne'er-do-well in old age, he saw more of [illegible] than most men. He came to California in early times and was the hero of a shark story [illegible] as the only one having truth for foundation native to our harbor. In 1851 James Carton, a stevedore, while warping the ship Genesee to [illegible] Market street wharf lost an anchor. "On Deck" was the only diver except Bill Matthews then known in the city and was sent for to recover the anchor.

"On Deck" complied and while so engaged noticed a shark hovering a few feet above him evidently observing his movements. The fish was at least eighteen feet long and was known as the "bottle nose," one of the most voracious of the shark kind. The discovery naturally alarmed the diver. He had found the anchor, made a cable fast to it and was about ascending when the appearance of the shark made him pause.

He had heard that sharks did not molest men in armor. He doubted this, and did not feel now like risking the experiment. He moved a few paces from the anchor—the shark moved too. He returned to his former place—the shark followed. He was evidently, to use his own words, "spotted by the bottle nose for a supper," and [illegible] fall a victim to its voracity. [illegible] cuttle fish [illegible] body.

He accordingly [illegible] saved his life.

It is an idle life [illegible] the seed of wisdom, but he who reflects [illegible] never reaps has no harvest from it but carries the burden of age without the wages of experience [illegible]. And what is age if it has not esteem? It has nothing.

The Erie Railway, one of the longest lines of railroad in the world, employs 15,000 persons in various occupations. It is estimated that there is scarcely an hour of the day or night when there are not 100 trains in actual running along the line.

Unfortunate indeed is he who has no friend to point out his faults.

The Gold Bank.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct 3.—The Bulletin this evening publishes in its commercial column a statement that the directors of the National Gold Bank and Trust Company have decided to put the bank in liquidation and wind up its affairs as speedily as possible. On the other hand a statement is made by the president of the bank that no decision has yet been reached by the directors. He says they are in fact liquidating claims of all kinds as rapidly as possible and have already reduced the liabilities to $800,000. RAILWAY LAW

We clip from the Chicago Tribune the following report of the decision in the Iowa supreme court, to which reference was made in the OREGONIAN a few days since concerning damages by railways:

DES MOINES, Ia, Oct 13.—The supreme court has just decided a case of importance to railroad corporations in Iowa, and to property holders, and which goes beyond all former decisions in increasing the liabilities of railroad corporations. The court very truly remarks, that it remains to be seen whether the policy of the Legislature, in the under statute consideration, is wise.

In 1873, a westward passenger-train on the Milwaukee & St Paul Railroad set fire to the prairie grass along the track. The fire spread over the open prairie about one mile, when it reached the fence surrounding the farm of Andrew Rodemacher, in Floyd which it burned. He brought an action in that county for damages and recovered $125. The company appealed to the supreme court and set up the unconstitutionality of the law under which the action was brought,—Sec. 1,289 of the Code of 1873,—in that it impaired the contract between the State and the company under which its charter it conferred. The court holds

That there is no impaired contract between a State and a corporation that there shall be no change in the laws existing at the time of the corporation which shall render the use of the franchise more burdensome or less lucrative, any more than there is between the State and an individual, that the laws existing at the time of the acquisition of property shall remain perpetually in force. It is true that generally received doctrine is that for a lawful and reasonably careful use of property the owner shall not be made answerable in damages. But this is simply a principle of the common law. It is not so wrought into the idea of property, nor is it so hedged about by the constitution that the Legislature may not change it. The right to enact the statute above considered is derived under the police power of the State. If the statute in question can be brought under the police power of the State, its constitutionality will not be questioned. This police-power extends to the protection of the lives, limbs, health, comfort and quiet of all persons, and the protection of all property within the State.

The constitution provides that private property shall not be taken for public use without just compensation. Yet the very law under which defendant is incorporated authorizes the incorporation of railways and the employment of a species of locomotion which experience has proved is very destructive to private property. The constitutional right to do so has never as we are aware of, been questioned at the present day. If, then, the Legislature may authorize to be put in force a power which, in some instances and under some circumstances will cause damage to private property, why may not the Legislature also say that the person who employs the force shall be responsible for the damages which it occasions? The statute simply recognizes the doctrine that the use of the locomotive engine is the employment of a dangerous force that sometimes notwithstanding the exercise of highest care and diligence it will emit sparks and cause destructive conflagrations that when this occurs loss must fall upon one of the two innocent parties that heretofore that loss has been borne by the owners of the property injured but hereafter it shall be borne by the owners of the property causing the injury.

What the policy of the Legislature may be experience alone can show. With these questions we have nothing to do. For us it is enough not to know that the statute contravenes no constitutional provision, State or national, and that it does so we entertain no doubt.

The decision of the court below is affirmed. Judge Cole does not concur in the grounds or reasoning of the majority opinion.

This decision cuts off the question of negligence in these cases.

Lord Macaulay's industry was untiring. He would spend hours in a library of the British Museum hunting what many would think an unimportant fact, and those who read his well rounded periods little knew with what labor they were produced. His thrilling narrative of the Western Rebellion was written in his own study, but in a cottage of the Somerset marshes in which he spent weeks [illegible] in his description.—Golden Age.

Charles Francis Adams Jr. prophesies that all the railway systems of the country will become united, and the powerful monopoly and that ultimately they will become a department of the Government, just as the [illegible] is now. He thinks that Scott, Vanderbilt and Garrett are bringing this about.

The Seattle Coal Company have built forty or fifty houses at their mine since the beginning of the present year and will build a dozen more right away. A great many families are settling in the place, each of which is given a house by itself.

"THE GREAT MISTAKE OF THE REPUBLICAN PARTY"

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

Permit me to make some reply to your editorial criticising my article headed "The Great Mistake of the Republican Party," both of which appeared in the OREGONIAN of the 2d inst. The article reviewed did not assume that all who participated in the rebellion were not conscientious, nor to be trusted in any position for I believe to the contrary, especially in regard to the people of the South. But I did say, and still say that "I do not believe that an intelligent Northern man can claim to be now true and loyal to this Republic if, a few years since he was opposed to it and desired its overthrow." I then added, "if such anomalies did exist it but proved them unfit for position in any government," for the ability of such to sudden conversions for or against their country, is simply measured by their supposed interest. Now I submit whether such persons can be true patriots. If not, ought they to be selected for position in place of true, loyal men? Certainly not.

Nor did I mean to convey the idea that all Republicans were pure and honest, although the language of my article in its close seemed to bear that idea, and is justly excepted to in your review. I think there are bad Republicans in office, who ought to go out. What else might have been expected than that some of them should become corrupt, in view of their Democratic-Republican associates. "Evil communications corrupt good manners." The better class of Republicans have been gradually laid on the shelf by the force of this Democratic Republican pressure, and the erroneous idea that whoever may pretend to accept the situation, must needs be loyal and true.

Nor does the writer either feel or desire to discuss the political situation from the "bloody shirt" stand point. He feels willing and ready to forgive all repentant wrong doers, when there is any desire for forgiveness. The prodigal son was not forgiven till he returned, nor until he confessed he was not worthy to be called a son, but then he was freely forgiven all. So this government had better have waited a little till the South came to themselves and decided to return to their father's house, with prayer for forgiveness on their lips. The government should have held and ruled them by military power till they asked to return. Had this course been pursued, it would not have been two years after the close of the war before every rebel State might have been back in the Union, repentant and thoroughly reformed and reconstructed. But, instead of this wise and just course the sickly, sentimental course was adopted of a great government standing with hat in hand begging and imploring unrepentant rebels to return and shake hands across the "bloody chasm." This policy was adopted by the government, under the leadership of some truly great men, with the erroneous idea that a partially barbarous people who had committed treason, could properly appreciate, or even comprehend, the generous motives that actuated the government. Hence the well known difficulties of reconstruction and the correctness of my claim that we exhibited undue haste in offering to shake hands across the chasm while no one stood ready to respond on the other side. The plan of dividing the offices of the government "half and half" never has worked well, nor never will. If a party or government must lose its influence and power by being true to itself, it is certainly better than to allow itself to be captured by the enemy. In view of the above facts and the fraud and peculation existing that even all the effort and power of the government seems incapable of arresting there are many honest and true Republicans all over the land who have become disgusted, and feel an indifference in regard to sustaining the party, because of the apprehension that after all their efforts bad men will get the control of affairs.

The Colonist states that there are 1,008 buildings for dwelling and business purposes in Victoria.

A fine stag weighing 200 pounds, was captured in Saanich bay last week, by some railroad surveyors.

Geo Thomas a native of Baltimore, was found dead in his bed at Victoria, on Wednesday of last week.

The subsidy given by the Canadian government to the W U Tel Co for maintaining its lines in British Columbia has been continued for another year.

An incendiary fire was kindled under the Soda creek flouring mill last Monday morning but the flames were fortunately discovered in time to prevent much damage.

At a late election for members of the provincial legislature, 7 of the elected are Irishmen, 9 Englishmen, 3 Scotch, 2 Welsh, 3 Ontarians and 1 is a native of British Columbia.

Mr. Allison recently arrived at Victoria from Yale with a band of cattle, which he had a hard time in getting through. The snow on the road was 9 inches deep and it was still snowing.

A lad named Edgar Whitfield, of Nanaimo, while walking home from church on Sunday night with a young lady, was violently assaulted by a number of other lads, who made their escape.

Messrs Sproat & Co., of Victoria, says the Colonist, have learned that a seam of fine bituminous coal has been found on their mill property at Barclay Sound within a quarter of a mile of the wharf. The value of the seam will be tested. Should it prove extensive, the contiguity of Barclay Sound to the ocean will render it a favorite resort for shipping seeking coal cargoes.

The Canadian Premier, the Hon Mr. Mackenzie, in a speech at Sarnia while referring to the future policy of the government on the Pacific railroad announced that the eastern section of the road would have to be abandoned for the present, but if the finances would permit the western section would be built before 1890. The western section alluded to lies between Thunder Bay on Lake Superior some 200 miles northeast of Duluth and Vancouver Island.

THE TERRITORIES

A sailor belonging to the bark Oakland fell overboard at Port Madison last week and was drowned. His body was found next day.

A squash weighing 113 pounds and measuring 10 feet in circumference is exciting Seattle. Oregon can beat it by 18 pounds and two feet.

A little boy, the son of Mr McHugh of Freeport fell from a swing at that place on Sunday last and broke his leg just above the knee.

Wm C Wood of Seattle, upon medical examination was last week decided to be insane and was ordered taken to the asylum by Probate Judge York. Wood imagined himself to be a sort of "lord over all," the head of the Seattle Coal Company, manager of the Pacific Mail Company, President of the United States &c.

At Burnt Point near Steilacoom, W. T., two men engaged in the fishing business caught on lines during forty nine days 7,836 dog fish, 783 rock cod, 52 mackerel and ten shark. One of the sharks taken was 15 feet, and 3 inches long and gave about 14 gallons of oil. The largest dog fish was 6 feet 7 inches long.

The Steilacoom Express of last Saturday says: A correspondent at Lilli, in this county, writes us that on Tuesday, of last week, a man named August de St Aubin while cutting logs at that place had three ribs and probably his collar bone broken by being caught between two logs. The unfortunate man is improving very fast and his physician has strong hopes of his recovery. St Aubin has a wife and two children in Kansas.

LETTER FROM OLYMPIA

OLYMPIA, Nov 3, 1875.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

Times are getting lively now in the legislature as the session approaches its close, and all action on bills is now looked anxiously after, as but little time is left to introduce new ones in case old ones fail to pass.

Yesterday morning H. B. 103 was introduced by Mr Crawford, to encourage the representation of the material wealth of this Territory at the centennial of 1876, and providing for an appropriation of $4,000 to defray expenses of such representation.

H. B. 8, to provide a system for common schools was introduced at an early day of the session, and after mature consideration by the committee, was reported back to the house accompanied by a substitute, H. B. 98 which was recommended for passage. These bills, having been made the special order for yesterday, the House resolved itself into a committee of the whole and Mr Ferguson was called to the chair. After considering the bill by sections for several hours, H. B. 98 was adopted by the committee as the substitute for the original bill, and it will probably come up in a day or two for action.

A message was received from the governor yesterday, to the effect that his excellency withheld his approval of H. B. 1—the act organizing the county of [illegible]—on the ground that the bill was incorrect in its formation, first, in not providing for representation of said county, and second, in regard to the election of officers. On the question being put "Shall the bill pass notwithstanding the governor's objections," the vote was as follows:

Ayes—Messrs Cooke, Hodgis, Kelly, La Du, Miller, Newland, Ringer, Russell, Shrum—9.

Noes—Messrs Abrams, Crawford, Douthit, Ferguson, Foster, Grebill, Hannah, Harmon, Harris, Huntington, Hughes, Karr, Loyd, Lynch, Richardson, Scott, Wimpey, Whitney, Wood, and Mr Speaker—20.

The veto therefore was accepted. As will be seen afterwards, another bill has been introduced on the same subject.

During the session of the Council yesterday, the matter of confirming the Governor's appointments of Territorial officers was laid over, and made the special order for Friday, Nov, 12th at noon, being the last day of the session. No comment is needed on such action.

This morning the House was rather surprised by the sight of a petition signed by 736 women of this Territory, praying for elective franchise, and for the repeal of any opposing laws. The petition was accompanied by a bill on the same subject, which was referred to a select committee, consisting of Messrs Russell, Douthit, Wood, Miller, and Whitney, with instructions to report to-morrow. Several ladies were present in the lobby during the day, seemingly interested in the proceedings of the House especially as regarded the woman suffrage bill.

H. B. 116, introduced by Mr Abrams to-day, defining qualifications of voters for county school superintendent and other officers. It provides that sex shall be no bar to voting. The bill was referred to the same select committee as already mentioned.

C. B. 27, in relation to Territorial convicts, created considerable discussion, and several important amendments were [illegible] by the House, the only one adopted being a section providing that a prisoner shall, on his discharge at the expiration of his sentence, receive a plain suit of clothes and $5 in money, in accordance with the U. S. laws approved March 3, 1875. On being sent to the Council the amendment was not concurred in. The bill seems very defective in many particulars and will probably be further amended before its final passage.

H B 91, for the construction of a road from Kalama to Yakima, was indefinitely postponed as was also H B 103, for the opening of Skagit river for navigation.

On the question of the passage of H. B. 73 for the construction of a wagon road through Snoqualmie Pass, the debate was lively, but in spite of all that could be said in its favor, the bill was lost.

The House for some cause or other seemed to be utterly averse to-day to passing road bills, and before they adjourned they put a quietus on H B 44, for the construction of a road in Klickitat county, by indefinitely postponing it also.

Perhaps it is the best way to get rid of surplus matter, but it also might prove to be of too hasty a character and, perchance, some really good bills might be lost through such means. The business has now accumulated sufficiently to require afternoon sessions, and I presume night sessions will not be scarce after a while. There are now several bills before the Legislature on the subject of the treatment of the insane, and I presume the whole matter will be brought up to-morrow under the head of "Asylum Investigation."

THE PRESS ON CHANDLER

Of course all the leading papers must have their say on the appointment of ex senator Chandler to the office of secretary of the interior, and only two thus far, the Washington Chronicle and the Worcester (Mass.) Spy have failed to condemn the selection. The St. Paul Press (Republican) says:

The appointment of Zach. Chandler to secretary of the interior is one of those astounding blunders which President Grant sometimes makes, the reason for which no fellow can find out. He must have been aware of the exceeding unpopularity of Mr Chandler or his generally unsavory character and of the slight respect in which his department will be held so long as he is its presiding genius. He must be further aware that all the credit—and it goes for much—which his administration has gained in connection with his three last cabinet appointments Bristow, Jewell and Pierrepont—will be dissipated by the exceeding unhappy character of his last. We can scarcely think of a man, other than old Zach Chandler, whose appointment would make the country regret the retirement of Secretary Delano. Such an appointment the President has now made. It is a most unfortunate selection in every point of view. Fortunately however, it is made subsequent to the Republican success in Ohio, which would scarcely have resulted had this appointment been made prior to the election.

COLUMBIA COUNTY AT WORK FOR THE CENTENNIAL

COLUMBIA CITY, Oct 30, 1875.

According to previous notice the friends of the centennial celebration met at the above named place and time, Mrs W H Conyers presided and C G Caples was appointed secretary. The object of the meeting was fully stated by the presiding officer to be to procure articles for exhibition such as the natural productions and minerals, articles of antiquity and of art. After many suggestions and a promise of liberal contributions the following sub committee was appointed: For Columbia City—Mrs C G Caples, Mrs George W Maxwell and Mrs Elvira Lewis; on Claskanine—Mrs Julia A Tingle, Mrs A C Blood, Mrs Mary Lee and Mrs Ellen Tichnor; Marshland—Mrs H H Smith, Mrs M C Ungenfelter, Mrs Louise Dehnor and Miss Sallie Tichnor; River Side—Mrs S L Lovell, Mrs Sarah Wallace and Mrs Charles Jones.

On motion, it was resolved that Columbia county, and more especially Columbia City, be the banner county and town in sending minerals such as coal, iron and paint.

During the entire meeting the greatest harmony prevailed, and the interest taken by the ladies show them very capable of conducting or contributing largely to the celebration.

On motion the meeting adjourned the sub committee of this place agreeing to meet on Saturday November 6th.

PERSISTENCE OF THE INFLATIONISTS

The persevering unanimity with which the Democratic organs of the great central States adhere to the pernicious financial theory which was defeated in Ohio last month is a sign of the times which no political observer can misinterpret. It is in fact a sure indication that there is to be no surrender. So far as can be learned, the entire local and county Democratic press of Ohio and Indiana, and largely that of Pennsylvania, continue to echo the inflation sentiments of Pendleton, Allen and the Cincinnati Enquirer. Clearly there is no thought of retreat. The multitude of small journals teem with articles which affirm that on the financial question the people are with the Democratic party and that this party was beaten solely by the pressure of the school question. One paper before us, the Seymour (Ind.) Times, puts it in this sententious and epigrammatic form: "The verdict is against the Pope, not against the greenbacks." And the Indianapolis Sun has this:

Without a single exception, private letters received from greenback men in Ohio demand a new political organization so as to afford the people an opportunity to pass upon the paramount question of American politics untrammeled by dead issues and old party feuds and prejudices. This is the great need of the hour. The greenbackers are not one whit discouraged.

All agree that the struggle is to be renewed. The St. Louis Globe Democrat says that the strength of the Ohio Democracy was "in this new and vigorous heresy of inflation," and that without it that party would have "been beaten out of sight." The interests and honor of the country narrowly escaped a great danger, but the victory seems to be only partial and temporary, not at all permanent and decisive. The most intelligent journals and politicians declare with one voice that "instead of laying down our arms and enjoying a foolish security, we must be more vigilant and energetic than ever, and cannot afford to spare a single effort." Says the St. Louis Globe Democrat:

The cry of inflation appeals to every man who is in debt, to every workman out of employment, to every business man disappointed in his calculations, to every speculator caught in the decline of values. It allures them with specious promises of employment, of profits of activity, and, as it is hampered neither by conscience, nor truth nor logic, it goes into the fight with many advantages and appears at all points as an enemy not to be despised.

When we find that Gov. Allen, of Ohio though defeated in his own State, goes into Pennsylvania and speaks there to immense audiences, clamorous for the same doctrine, can we refuse to believe that the financial scheme or theory of the Democracy in those two great States, and which is also accepted by the Democracy of Indiana and many other localities, including nearly the whole South, [illegible] this year, it is not likely to be the main issue next?

STOCKS

Few people realize the amount of profit and loss involved in the fluctuations of mining stock in the San Francisco market. The discovery of the big bonanza of the Consolidated Virginia mine added of course a vast amount of actual property—bullion—to the wealth of the country or rather it disclosed a vast amount whose existence had not been known. For all practical purposes this was a creation of wealth to the amount of the actual discovery. The available addition to the property of its owners may have climbed up into the millions putting it on a working and not a speculating basis but it can hardly have reached one half the increase represented by the stock market. From $80 a share Consolidated Virginia rose to the enormous figure of $700 on the credit of the newly-discovered deposit of ore. Here was a nominal increase in the value of the property, and an actual increase in its capabilities in the market of $620 on each of the 108,000 shares into which the mine was divided. The increase therefore, was $66,960,000. Doubtless this nominal value was largely in excess of the actual working value of the mine as the subsequent state of the market would seem to indicate but it was the market value, the value at which the property could be exchanged for money and therefore it was, in a business sense, a real and not a fictitious value. A decline of a single dollar on the share of Consolidated Virginia or of most of the other mines, means a loss to the stockholders of a sum of money which would be regarded by most people as a handsome fortune. The other day there was a break in Ophir, and a decline of $15 per share. Very few people stopped to think, as they noticed, with a careless remark, that Ophir had gone back that this decline of $15 meant the annihilation of a million and a half of dollars in available property. Yet that is exactly what it meant. The annihilation of marketable property is just what all the breaks in stock mean. The nature of this property is such that it may be re-created by working up another excitement in stocks, which shows how devoid it is of substance but it is nevertheless the property in which men have their fortunes upon which they raise money when they need it with which they enter the market with the same confidence and meet the same ready reception as if they offered the best real estate. When, therefore, stocks "break," owners of stocks break, break as really and inextricably as if a conflagration had swept away their houses and an earthquake had given their lands to the sea.

Take these ideas and apply them to the recent "break," in which nearly all the one to twenty dollars, [illegible] amount of unreal but not unavailable property that has been swallowed up. Hundreds of millions! And that is a part of the extent to which San Francisco mining speculation is conducted on security that is ultimately worthless. It illustrates the danger in stock speculation, that the purchaser gets something that has no intrinsic value, and that may cease at any time to have a speculating or market value.

A BLUNDER SOMEWHERE.

Either the collectors of news at Washington City have been humbugging the country of late or a very singular proceeding has been had. Twice it has been mentioned that the matter of Judge Boreman's order upon Brigham Young, touching the Ann Eliza divorce suit, was under consideration in the cabinet. We can not imagine what the cabinet can have to do with the case. It is no more a matter of consideration by the cabinet or by the Department of Justice than any of the numerous civil cases tried before the Territorial courts, involving eight or ten thousand dollars. The whole of the case may be stated in a few words. Ann Eliza, one of Brigham's concubines, brought suit for divorce against him, and asked an order that he pay her, as temporary alimony pending the suit, certain sums of money. The court, Judge McKean, made an order requiring the payment of about $12,000. Brigham paid $2,500, but declined to pay the rest and Judge Boreman now presiding over the same court, has made an order on him to show cause why he should not be dealt with for contempt of court for his disobedience to the order. And this is the matter that is reported as a matter under consideration in the cabinet. We can not believe the report. The matter is entirely judicial in its character and should be disposed of as any other case in court is—by the Judge of the court and by the rules of law. If a Territorial Judge abuses his power, or even shows a want of discretion in the exercise of it that is ground for his removal, but we can not conceive it possible that the cabinet or the Department of Justice would feel at liberty to interfere with the administration of the laws by the regularly constituted courts in a civil case pending therein.

THE DEMOCRATIC-REPUBLICANS.

Our correspondent whose article in the OREGONIAN of the 2d inst we criticised, returns to the subject with explanations developing his views more carefully and we think planting himself on safer ground. The difference between his ideas and those we expressed in noticing his article, when considered in the light of both his articles together is more apparent than real. We incline however to think he did not give proper thought to what his pen was saying when in this second article he wrote of the Southern people as a partially barbarous people and assumes that they could not properly appreciate or even comprehend the generous motives that actuated the government in endeavoring to hasten a restoration of them to their old position and rights in the Union. We are not inclined to criticise his opinion that the reconstruction business was done with undue haste for we have long felt that to say the very least [illegible] recovered from the agitation of the rebellion and the depression of its collapse to understand their own wants and have their purposes for the future clearly defined in their own minds was a measure of doubtful policy. But when our correspondent assumes that the Southern people are "a partially barbarous people" he runs in the face of all the facts. If the existence in a community of considerable numbers of rough disorderly and lawless persons as is the case with Oregon California, New York, Pennsylvania etc justifies the classing of that community as "partially barbarous" the South is partially barbarous and so is the North but taken in any other sense the speaking of the Southern people as partially barbarous betrays a remarkable degree of prejudice, or a wonderful lack of information. The unbiased mind that has come in contact with both Northern and Southern people is likely to come to the conclusion we opine, that the latter do not on an average suffer much on the point of intelligence culture and refinement in comparison with the former. Americans are Americans, and to a person who can put aside his prejudices and judge impartially, they average pretty much alike no matter from what section they hail.

Passing over that paragraph, which we are sure was written inadvertently our correspondent's article cuts tolerably near the core of the case we apprehend and deserves attention.

The result of the Eastern election evidences a general reaction in favor of the Republican party. Pennsylvania continues her Republican majority and New York, which last year elected Tilden over Dix the latter a very popular man, by over 50,000, and elected a Democratic Legislature, now elects its Democratic State ticket by a small majority if at all and the Republicans have the Legislature. Wisconsin, which was counted by the opposition at the last election, now goes Republican. The same is true of Massachusetts. New Jersey also shows decided Republican gains. The Times thinks Tilden is now as dead a candidate for President as Grant, and thinks there must be a general reorganization of the presidential campaign which is probably true.

It is interesting to study the result of last Tuesday's elections along with that in Ohio. The verdict in New York would seem to be equivalent to a declaration that hard money is not so strong with the Democratic masses as rags.

A project is on foot to erect a monument to Mr Plimsoll who made the gallant and successful fight in Parliament for the British seamen. The monument will represent him in the act of delivering his famous protest in the House of Commons while in the back ground is the rotten hulk of a condemned ship over and around which ill omened birds are hovering.

O & C R. R. BONDS

We clip the following from the London Economist of Oct. 2:

Oregon and California 7 per cent bonds.—It is announced that the Frankfort committee for the protection of the bondholders have declared a dividend of 7 10ths per cent on account of the coupon due 1st October.

Oregon and California.—The committee appointed at the meeting on 15th September have issued a circular to the bondholders from which the following is extracted:

According to a recent statement of the president of the railway its liabilities were $7,808,026; and he also stated that in 1873 the gross receipts were $869,198 and the net revenue $277,214 while in 1874 the gross receipts were $884,920 the net revenue amounting to $187,813. This appears not to include any receipts from sale of lands which the committee believe to be valuable. The amount required to pay the interest on the first mortgage land grant bonds is $2[illegible]. Up to last January the company met its engagements on its bonded debt with regularity but default was then made on the first mortgage bonds. The President in March asked the bondholders to fund the coupons for four years and a half to enable him to pay off the floating debt. The committee think some modification of this may prove advisable but that it would be unwise for the bondholders at present to agree to it. Under the terms of the mortgage it would be necessary for very nearly all the bondholders to concur before such a scheme could be carried into effect. They propose to receive the bonds of such holders as will co-operate with them and to issue in exchange negotiable receipts. As holders of the bonds they will be able to act in the United States on behalf of the bondholders. It will be necessary to raise a fund for this purpose and they ask for a subscription of one half per cent on the nominal amount of the sums deposited—that is 1l. for each 200l. or $1,000 bond—and an engagement to make further contributions not exceeding an additional 1½ per cent as may be necessary.

A large barkentine will shortly be begun at Seattle. W H Bryant builder.

GILROY Sept 4 1875.

To whom it may concern: Seeing in various papers that the California Chemical Paint Company continue to deceive people by saying that the Averill Paint will neither peel crack nor chalk off I deem it my duty to say that my house painted with the above named paint in the fall of 1873 failed in less than eighteen months after being painted by peeling cracking and chalking off in the worst manner [illegible] I also observe that the company have my name in their printed matter as referee this was done without my knowledge or consent. F J BRYANT.

GILROY March 1875.

To whom it may concern: My house painted with the Averill Chemical Paint in June 1873 failed in a little over one year after being painted by chalking, peeling, washing and changing color, some light color [illegible] dark. The California Chemical Paint Company are knowing to this and yet continue to deceive the public by saying that the Averill Paint will not peel crack or chalk. THOMAS DABROUCH.

GILROY Sept 4 1875.

To whom it may concern: My house painted with the Averill Chemical Paint manufactured by the California Chemical Paint Company of San Francisco about two years ago failed in less than one year after it was painted by chalking off and changing color and I had a portion of it repainted. J B TRICKEY.

GILROY Sept [illegible] 1875.

Among the prominent ones are the State Normal School Gates Institute City Market the residence of Josiah Belden J W [illegible] President Gold Note Bank J R Arquello, Santa Clara etc. It has never failed to give satisfaction with a test of from one to four years so that its durability has been well tested. SAN FRANCISCO March 2[illegible] 1875.

Pacific Rubber Paint Company—Gentlemen: I have used your Rubber Paint on my yacht thus far the action of the water has had no effect upon it so far as my experience goes the Rubber Paint is the best paint ever used for painting vessels especially in salt water. It adheres firmly to the wood, does not peel, and retains its gloss. CAPT EDWIN MOODY.

Pacific Rubber Paint Company—Gents: We the undersigned interested parties in the Odd Fellows' Hall of this place feel it a duty as well as a pleasure to say to you that we are highly pleased not only with the appearance of the Rubber Paint on our hall but think it at least twenty per cent cheaper than any paint we could have used and we also recommend it to all as superior to any other paint as regards its covering and spreading qualities.

Death of James Stark —We observe in an exchange that James Stark the well known actor, died quite suddenly in New York on the 12th of October Few actors on the Pacific coast were better or more favorably known than "Jim" Stark, as he was familiarly called Stark played several successful engagements in Portland years ago, and in his prime was regarded as an actor of very considerable ability. Some years since he was stricken with paralysis at Salt Lake City while playing an engagement there, and for many months was confined to his bed a helpless invalid During the past twenty years Stark has been doing "leading business, not only on this coast, but through many of the Western States After recovering from the paralytic stroke, Mr Stark went East, and for several years has been playing "stock in connection with the various theaters in New York city Among the members of the theatrical profession [illegible] was held in high esteem and the memory of poor old Jim Stark will long be cherished in regretful remembrance At the time of his death, Stark was aged about 60 years.

The Amount Lost —When the stage was stopped near Umatilla by three highwaymen several weeks ago and Wells Fargo & Co's treasure-box taken, it was supposed that a large sum of money was obtained by the robbers. Some time elapsed before Mr [illegible] the agent of W, F & Co in this city could determine with any degree of certainty the amount of treasure lost It has been pretty accurately ascertained now, and the sum taken is by no means as large as was supposed As near as can be determined the robbers got away with about $4 500 which sum was [illegible] far below what they had reason to expect they were bagging. Pursuit was given the highwaymen, and the authorities were hot on their track soon after the robbery was committed but the efforts thus far put forth for the apprehension of the perpetrators have [illegible] unsuccessful Having advantage of the night's travel the robbers doubtless [illegible] the mountains, and when once its [illegible] were gained they could defy all [illegible]

Mr Edward Hughes has been [illegible] as his successor. Mr Durbrow has made a faithful and efficient officer, and by his [illegible] courtesy and gentlemanly conduct has made a host of warm friends who will regret to learn that his connection with the company has ceased

Miss Ebodine Holbrook —This lady arrived in the city last evening from Victoria at which place she has been giving select readings from the poets In a few days we understand that Miss Holbrook will give one or more entertainments in Portland, of which further mention will be made as to time and place. Miss Holbrook, it is said, is the pupil of Mr. James E. Murdock the great tragedian and her readings are highly commended by the California press.

COMMON COUNCIL.

REGULAR MEETING, NOV 3, 1875

Last evening the regular meeting of the common council was held at the chamber. His honor Mayor Chapman in the chair, W S Caldwell auditor present and Chief Lappeus in attendance.

Members present—Besser, Catlin, Corbett Hoyt, Lyon, Stemme, Skidmore and Wiley

Minutes of last meeting read and approved

PETITION

From Wm Bond and others asking to have the grade changed at the intersection of A and Northwest Park streets and A and Northeast Park streets The petition was filed

REPORT

Councilman Lyon of the committee on fire and water reported verbally to the council that the contract for the construction of a fire cistern at the intersection of Eighth and Hall streets had been awarded to George Hough ton for the sum of $4 0

CHIEF ENGINEER'S REPORT

Chief Engineer Hallock submitted the following report which was on motion referred to the committee on fire and water

To the Mayor and Common Council—Gentlemen I report to you the following, relating to the fire department, which require your attention in my opinion

The roof of the bell tower was required to be put on by the specification therefor, with old tin and it does not answer the purpose for it leaks very badly The water leaking through it falls upon the striking apparatus of the bell and has already injured it and if it is left in this condition will soon render it unserviceable A new covering for the roof is required to remedy the leaking

The valve of the hydrant at the corner of D and North Fourth streets leaks so badly the hydrant will have to be taken up for its repair The amount remaining of the authorization for repairs to hydrants is not sufficient to do this work and an additional authorization will be necessary to have it done

The cisterns reported to you last spring as requiring cleaning are in as bad condition as then no provision having been made for the work to be done I have found upon examining them, that in some there is a deposit of mud of from six to thirty inches upon the bottoms and some of these cisterns are in the vicinity of very valuable property, and will be the only source of supply of water for the neighborhood in case of fire I trust you will not longer delay requiring them to be cleaned

During a week past cesspool boxes have been put in to seventeen hydrants, to receive the water from hydrant drip cocks Many of them owing to the plan of construction will be unserviceable, for they will remain full of water level with the street gutters They are dug, as required by the specifications eighteen inches below the drip cock making them about three feet deep and being close to the curb the water from the street flows into them to its level in the gutter This will have to be remedied to obtain protection from frost bursting the hydrants as desired The tops of these cesspool boxes are covered with a cover 1½ inches thick, by 20 inches square of rough lumber, battened with the same upon the under side This cover will undoubtedly be a failure, and in a short time will have to be replaced with a better one Your ordinances in many places where these covers have been placed require the sidewalk plank to be three inches thick by eight inches wide, this has been removed to place this 1½ inch cover in its stead

I have no doubt in every instance of the authorizations for work your body has made for this department, a large majority of you intended the work to be done in a substantial manner, without any waste of the means of the taxpayers, but as in this and in many other of your authorizations, having been left to the control of some unskilled in mechanics, the results have proven a waste of many hundreds of dollars of the taxes collected from the people for maintaining the fire department And I wish to inform you that four fifths of the work done by your authorizations since I have been in office has been planned and specified to be done without my knowledge and much of it in a manner against my advice

I have from time to time made reports to you of the wants and repairs required to keep the department in proper condition for service, and to save waste The recommendations of these reports have generally met the approval of your body, as shown by your subsequent action in approving those returned to you The reports you referred to your standing committee on fire and water to make the necessary resolutions and ordinances for carrying them out but in almost every instance the reports have remained without action for a long time and many until the season has arrived unfitted for doing the work required and consequently the work costs much more and cannot be done so well

None of you will think for a moment that this is a good time of year to commence painting engine houses outside or doing any kind of work of that description, nor for the commencement of building a fire cistern The difference of the cost of those let about two months ago and the one of the same size let this week will prove to you that fact

Yet this work has been so delayed notwithstanding your attention was called to it in July last, and the matters entrusted to your committee

I hope that for the interest of all the saving of money to the tax payers and maintaining the efficiency of the fire department that you will not permit further delay in requiring all work to be done at once and properly, too when it is deemed by your body it is required and necessary Yours respectfully,

A B. HALLOCK, Chief Engineer

WALLA WALLA FAIR.

INTERESTING ACCOUNT OF THE FAIR—ATTENDANCE—ANNUAL ADDRESS—RACES, ETC

We are placed under obligations to the O S N Co for the following account of the Fair sent by the operator at Walla Walla yesterday

Owing to the inclemency of the weather the attendance at the Fair is not so large as was expected It seemed for several days as though we had either been transported to Webfoot or its climate to us Tuesday, the first day was one continuous rain throughout, so that not even a commencement could be made

Few entries were made to day in the stock department, and some samples were displayed on fruit and vegetable shelves

The saddle race for 2 year olds took place to day The following horses were entered Texas, owned by Walters George by Cooper and Boston by Putman The race a single dash of one mile was won by Texas Time 1.56 George a good second and Boston last Both the latter were nearly distanced.

On Thursday forenoon came the running race for 2 year olds single dash, three entries two started Orcella, entered by Putman Snip by Ross and Bulger by Moore The race was won by Orcella by two lengths Time 2 10

The annual address was delivered at 2 o'clock by Judge Wingard He prefaced his address with a few remarks, relating to the amount of interest manifested. Many of our farmers making a fair and creditable display There were only some fifty of our farmers and stock raisers who gave this important matter any attention The address was delivered in an earnest and forcible manner and elicited a great deal of interest by the [illegible] peculiarly felicitous style of expression [illegible] with [illegible] embellished with proper arguments [illegible] The address showed [illegible] and careful preparation and was attentively listened to and pronounced by everybody to be a highly praiseworthy effort

A trotting race for 2 year olds best two in three was run off for a purse of $[illegible] [illegible] were in the race Snowflake entered by [illegible] Ida Lindsey by Lute Lindsey Sky Rocket by Brandon First heat, Snowflake led off considerably ahead of her competitors On the home stretch Lindsey gained greatly and came in three lengths behind Snowflake Sky Rocket being last Time, 3 33½ The second heat, Snowflake again took the lead and kept it all the way until within a few rods of the home stretch when she broke badly and Ida glided ahead Sky Rocket was last again Time 3 33½. Third heat—They started about even Lindsey gained a length for the first quarter three then came abreast to the half mile pole, when Sky Rocket dropped behind, Snowflake shot ahead of Ida, and greatly widened the gap Ida and Sky Rocket were nearly distanced, and came in abreast Time 3 30

Thursday and Friday's races were very slow only plugs having been entered therefore unworthy of mention Saturday was the great day of the fair as quite a large crowd of people assembled to witness the running and trotting races which were the most interesting feature of the meeting The presence of a multitude of handsome ladies some of which could outvie or excel Juno was indeed an ornamental and refreshing addition to the rusty masculine attendance There were four entries in the first race, which was running best three in five Trifle, entered by Ross Texas by Walters, Medoc by Putman Boston by Lamar

First heat—Three first named ran abreast to half-mile pole when Trifle gradually shook them off and crossed the score in 1 55½ Medoc good second, Texas third and Boston behind the flag

Second heat—The mare cut the work leisurely, and came under the wire in 1 57, Texas second and Medoc third

Third heat—Medoc was withdrawn and the mare won the race and money, $125 in very slow time—two minutes Texas received $50, second money

The second was a trotting race, the bonanza of the season Purse, $200 best three in five mile heats. Lewiston entered by Captain Theller Mollie Welch, by Welch Greyhound, by Ross Lewiston was the favorite in pools, two in one, and won the first heat, 2 42, 2 45½ and 2 47 Greyhound was distanced the first heat Mollie was a little off, and did not show the speed anticipated, though James sent her for blood His judgment in holding the ribbons was questioned by Mollie's backers, and Lindsey was put up and drove the third heat, but with no better result But little lucre changed hands

He was happy—the man who bought for himself a bran new suit and a general outfit for Willie and Harry at Beck & Waldman's He had saved a few dollars thereby and got a bargain in clothing

EXTRAORDINARY OPPORTUNITY FOR THE RELIEF OF THE AFFLICTED

GEN SPRAGUE INTERVIEWED

The efficient superintendent of the N P R R Pacific division was on the train yesterday and during several detached interviews the following information was elicited This gentleman has just returned from the meetings consequent upon the reorganization of the N P R R

Correspondent—General the public have heard reports of the new basis on which the board was placed since the sale, but in reality know little or nothing about it. Will you allow me to interview you?

Gen S—I have no objection sir

C—With great unanimity the people of the North Pacific coast desire a direct connection with the Atlantic side, and we can cherish no hostility to this road if it promises to meet the public expectations On the contrary the intelligent community wish for its success

Gen S—The reorganization is worthy of public confidence

C—Is the concern placed in good hands If the men now at the helm are honest and competent that will reinspire confidence

Gen S—They are honest and competent They have also the greatest interest in the success of the road

C—Their pecuniary interest may be very transitory being easily disposed of to other parties But their moral and patriotic interest in the road is of infinitely greater concern to the public

Gen S—The public can trust these men Their antecedents and present standing are pledges of faithful and economical management They are fully alive to the value and importance of the vast enterprise which they have in charge The president, Charles B Wright, Esq and the vice president, General George Stark, are men of life long experience in railroad enterprises, in none of which have they ever known such a thing as failure And they have never been engaged in any enterprise in which they were so determined to succeed as the present one

C—All this is very promising general, but the unfinished part of the work is immense It is not, however, beyond the grasp of capital, skill and energy How many miles of track must be built between the Columbia and Missouri rivers?

Gen S—About 1,000 miles of road from the head of navigation on the Columbia will reach Bismarck the present western terminus of the eastern division With this link supplied Idaho Oregon and Washington can be easily and cheaply reached Multitudes living at the East are looking with longing eyes to the milder climate of the Pacific coast and its cheaper farming lands

C—We want also the capital and skilled labor which this great highway will give us The introduction of manufactures on an extensive scale is indispensable to any great and permanent progress here All classes will experience the multiplied benefits. Manufactures will work up our raw material of which we have unlimited quantities and create a profitable home demand for our agricultural products of which unlimited quantities can be raised There is a rumor afloat that the road will be extended from Kalama to Portland next year

Gen S—That extension is favorably viewed by the board of directors, and may be actually accomplished next year.

C—Funds are "The sinews of war," as you know, general What means have they for carrying on the work?

Gen S—Additional funds are already provided by the bondholders After they are appropriated capital must unlock its coffers and finish the road

C—Capital is coy, general and like a fair damsel, must be courted. What inducements can the new company offer?

Gen S—In addition to what has been said, and which is sufficient to inspire confidence look at the five hundred and fifty miles of completed road with equipment sufficient for at least fifteen hundred miles and shops, tools and machinery enough for the same length of road, together with the acquired lands, aggregating about thirteen millions of acres all this vast property is free from incumbrance—making in fact the most substantial basis for a mortgage security that has ever been offered to capitalists on this continent

C—Some of your statements will be new to the public, and suspicion of the road Once convince the people that these are facts, and much suspicion will be allayed. They will welcome the capitalists of the older countries who are willing to aid in the development of this new and thriving populated region

Mail advices from San Francisco with full particulars of the disaster at Virginia, predict a material tightening of the money market on this coast inconsequence, as the flow of bullion, expected at the rate of two or three millions a month, will be stopped for two or three months. The actual loss of gold and silver is not the greatest, however, for the moral effect is still more important. Capitalists in San Francisco, fearing a tightening money market advanced their rates for accommodations at once. Banks already careful became more so. Collaterals, on which a few days before money had been loaned liberally, were now, when offered, scanned more closely, less loaned on them or thrown out abroad. The disaster had the same effect on sterling as that of an advance of 2 per cent. on gold, making it almost unsalable. This state of things must last for a few months, and in that time the coast must lose instead of gain. In its effects upon the commercial interests of the coast, and especially of California, the Virginia fire is considered as disastrous as the failure of the Bank of California.

Our local money market shows no signs of any pressure, and collection day passed with rather less complaint being made prominent than is usual. Transactions are generally limited, and with but little speculative movement the legitimate trade of the city and State is fairly accommodated. Rates on money are unchanged; long time loans of fair volume are obtainable at 10 per cent per annum on real estate, while lesser sums on shorter time can be had at 1 per cent. per month. To say the market is perfectly easy would perhaps be overdrawing it, but there is at least no stringency and a tolerable fair supply of funds available for the regular customers of our local banks and other lending institutions.

The Salmon Business.

From present indications, the salmon fisheries of this country will be hereafter run upon rather more conservative principles than hitherto, and while all the leading canneries on the Columbia will keep in the market, their operations will be limited to the demands of the trade, and an over supply will be one of the points guarded against. It is reported that 200,000 cases, 1 lb., Oregon, of the catch of 1875, have been sold upon contract in San Francisco at $1 30@1 35. They are now held in that market at $1 40@1 45. Spot lots, for present delivery, are quotable there at $1 50. The stock is light in 1 lb cans, but is [illegible] to be neglected.

The San Francisco Call, of last Saturday, says that fresh salmon is being sold in great quantity in that market, and calls upon the authorities to stop it. Some time [illegible] in that city, and rewards were even offered for the apprehension of all persons engaged in the traffic; but after several had been arrested, tried and acquitted, [illegible] into the vice of their less scrupulous neighbors. The Call says:

The numerous canneries situated on the Columbia river have just as much right to take, kill and [illegible] salmon in the close season as the fishermen and dealers in this vicinity; and should this policy be carried out, the consequence would be that one of the greatest enterprises on the Pacific coast would soon dwindle into nothing. It is certainly evident that should the present looseness of law be continued next season, the canneries will catch the fever, and wholesale slaughter will prevail all the year round.

(Carminative)

For Diarrhoea and Dysentery use Dr. Jayne's Carminative Balsam. As changes of climate or water, and indiscretions in eating often produce these complaints, travelers and others should always keep a bottle of this remedy by them. It never fails to subdue the most violent attacks, and it is equally serviceable for Cramps in the Stomach or Bowels, Griping Pains, &c.

For Cholera Morbus, Cholera Infantum and Colic use Dr. Jayne's Carminative Balsam. It removes all soreness of the abdomen, allays the irritation and calms the action of the Stomach. It may always be relied on to give immediate relief, and besides being effectual, is a pleasant and safe remedy, easily administered to children.

For Asiatic Cholera and all Bowel Affections use promptly Dr. Jayne's Carminative Balsam. It checks the Diarrhoea, suppresses the Cramps which generally attend attacks of Cholera,—and, correcting the disease in its incipiency, it has frequently been administered in neighborhoods where the Cholera has been raging epidemically, and it has seldom failed to give immediate and permanent relief. The Carminative has maintained its reputation as a Curative for nearly forty years, it is equally effective in all climates, and as a Standard Household Remedy, should be kept in every family.

YOUNG MEN

Who may be suffering from the effects of youthful follies or indiscretion, will do well to avail themselves of this, the greatest boon ever laid at the altar of suffering humanity. Dr. SPINNEY will guarantee to forfeit $500 for every case of seminal weakness, or private disease of any kind or character which he undertakes and fails to cure. He would, therefore, say to the unfortunate sufferer who may read this notice, that you are treading upon dangerous ground when you longer delay in seeking the proper remedy for your complaint. You may be in the first stage; remember you are approaching the last. If you are bordering upon the last, and are suffering some or all of its effects, remember that if you persist in procrastination, the time must come when the most skillful physician can render you no assistance; when the door of hope will be closed against you; when no angel of mercy can bring you relief. In no case has the Doctor failed of success. Then let not despair work upon your imagination, but avail yourself of the beneficial results of his treatment before your case is beyond the reach of medical skill, or before grim death hurries you to a premature grave. Full course of treatment $25.00. Send money by Post Office order or Express with full description of the case. Call, or address

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

This compound of the vegetable alteratives, Sarsaparilla, Dock, Stillingia and Mandrake with the Iodides of Potash and Iron makes a most effectual cure of a series of complaints which are very prevalent and afflicting. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system, that undermine health and settle into troublesome disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange, and whose substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Ulcers and Sores, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Pain in the Bones, Side and Head, Female weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhoea arising from internal ulceration and uterine disease, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

This standard article is compounded with the greatest care.

Its effects are as wonderful and satisfactory as ever.

It restores gray or faded hair to its youthful color.

It removes all eruptions, itching, and dandruff, and the scalp by its use becomes white and clean.

By its tonic properties it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, preventing baldness, and making the hair grow thick and strong.

As a dressing nothing has been found so effectual or desirable.

Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, says of it: "I consider it the best preparation for its intended purposes."
